

YOUR TRUSTED SECURITY PARTNER IN IRAQ

Al Murabit Security Services (AMS-91) is an Anglo-Iraqi managed security and risk management company specialising in security for oil and gas companies in southern Iraq. Recognising the unique challenges of trading in Iraq and the requirement for a local reliable security company, Harlow International established Al Murabit in 2010. AMS now has a business development office in Dubai and fully operational offices in Basra and Baghdad with secure villa accommodation, life support services and an operations room with integrated communications and a state of the art tracking system.

WE OFFER PEACE OF MIND

Our international team have experience across the Middle East and North Africa and is made up of senior ex-military commissioned and non-commissioned officers supported by technical specialists in various security disciplines.

Focusing on support for oil and gas companies, the accumulated experience means the team can offer clients a full spectrum of security services and are able to provide market-leading advice on trading in Iraq. The fusion of security knowledge and country know-how gives our clients a sense of comfort and safety allowing them to focus on their core business in Iraq.

Since opening for business, AMS-91 has secured a strong and growing portfolio of contracts through its flexibility, adaptability, responsiveness and best in class, international levels of professional security.

OPERATIONAL CLARITY

Our in-depth experience of operating in the most austere, demanding and threatening environments has taught us the absolute necessity for an open and honest relationship with our clients. As a security company that prides itself on excellent client rapport, Al Murabit Security Services can guarantee a close working relationship that will afford full visibility and participation of ongoing operations.

By supporting communication between all stakeholders a 'top down, bottom up' approach is encouraged across every part of the operation. This ensures full integration and clarity of the project with the client team, company directors, the required local governmental offices and host nation security departments.

“ Al Murabit's low profile delivery, coupled with their staff's diplomatic and professional manner of doing business has made working with them a pleasure. Their senior management have remained engaged with us as clients and have been keen to help and responsive to our changing demands.

PSC.1 ACCREDITED

Al Murabit Security Services (AMS-91) is proud to be the first Iraqi Private Security Companies to achieve the external accreditation: ASIS/ANSI PSC.1 – 2012 Quality Management System for Private Security Company Operations. Clients can be assured that AMS-91 and ATS-109 have been through a rigorous audit process by an external third party and that they meet the high standards of PSC.1 certification.

PSC.1 was written by ASIS International at the request of the US Department of Defense, and incorporates compliance with the Montreux Document of 2008, and the International Code of Conduct of 2010, both aimed at providing guidance for professional management of Private Security Companies operating in high-risk areas.

It provides clients with auditable standards assurance for the quality of private security operations and respect for human rights in demanding environments. This warrants that services provided by us meet international standards with regards to quality and consistency.

YOUR TRUSTED SECURITY PARTNER IN IRAQ

Al Thaware Security Services (ATS-109) is an international security and risk management company, providing exclusive personal and technical security support for those living, travelling and working in hostile environments. We help companies and their staff identify, evaluate and mitigate operational risk in Iraq.

ASSURING BUSINESS CONTINUITY

We are a fully licensed, transparent and responsible organisation that is compliant with all local regulatory standards and, as such, a wide range of diplomatic, development, defence, oil and gas, and infrastructure clients trusts us to secure their people and assets.

We support companies with long-term solutions to secure their business operations and personnel. Our technical expertise, on the ground network, assets in country, and experienced resources help ensure our clients' assets and resources are safe and secure. Contingency plans are prepared in advance to reduce any unwanted surprises and business interruption. We focus on ensuring the safety of your employees so you can effectively continue with your core business.

TRUSTED INTELLIGENCE

We understand the constraints imposed on organisations by the current security conditions in Iraq. We factor these into our own programme schedules when operating in and around the country. Our local knowledge means we have constantly updated intelligence of every route that can be used at any given time – invaluable in today's Iraq, and essential for successful day-to-day operations.

By placing best in class directors, managers and operators within their respective functions Al Thaware Security Services has created a lean, focused, and fast moving organisation that can respond to the challenges of Iraq without getting weighed down by internal corporate processes. While the company's headquarters is in Baghdad, it operates within trading protocols and quality assurances that include financial, insurance, legal, and contractual and management standards that are all internationally recognised. This structure affords clients the confidence that today's challenges will be dealt with and the response would be immediate.
